

Show & Tell February 2010

Presenter: Eileen Wardle

Quilter: Connie Emmen

This is a Stack and Whack quilt. Jackie Fuller led our small group in this project. Every quilt from the project was unique and different.

Presenter: Mona Harp

This is an old Trip Around the World. I am looking for someone to hand quilt it.

Presenter: Bev Young

Quilter: Jami Herndon

These Poinsettia blocks were a Block of the Month in November, 2008 and I won the 19 returned blocks at the January 2009 BBQ meeting. I set 18 of the blocks on point and added some holiday fabric for the border. The special 19th block was added to the back as a label block.

Presenter: Connie Emmen

Quilter: Connie Emmen

"An Apple a Day Makes the Monkeys Play" is a "just 'cause" quilt for my son, hoping to bring him strength and a smile; he says there's nothing funnier than monkeys. Blocks are stars and 81 patches, arranged randomly. The back is a monkey print from Joann's and I quilted it on my longarm with Dave Hudson's "Big Chill" pantograph.

Presenter: Chris Klover

Quilter: Chris Klover

I took inspiration from the Hawaiian quilt made by Lois Alice. This is one of the patterns she lent to me, the Hibiscus. This is a test for a 16 block quilt to celebrate my daughter, Kristen's, wedding on June 26, 2010.

Presenter: Jackie Fuller

Quilter: Jackie Fuller

This is a Folded Log Cabin quilt that I made from the class by Rena Hastings that BBQ presented in Sept 2009

Presenter: Jackie Fuller

Quilter: Jackie Fuller

This is a quilted wall hanging made during Wendy Richardson's class last spring.

Presenter: Connie Emmem

Quilter: Connie Emmen

"Pastrami with Dijon" is my original design based on the Jacob's Ladder piecing patter. I made it for a friend honoring her birthday and 10 years of friendship in April. I backed it with SewBatik wide backing and quilted it on my longarm using Dave Hudson's "Angels Among Us" pantograph.

Presenter: Elaine Cederquist

Quilter: Elaine Cederquist

"Flower Chicks" is a UFO of 40 years. I painted the little girl blocks in the 60's when Trichem paints were all the rage. I finished 11  $\frac{1}{2}$  of the blocks when I was 14 years old. I can't tell you how many times I just about got rid of the paints as we moved cross country several times. Last year I took the paints out and found that most of them were still good. As luck would have it, TriChem was still in business online, and I was able to buy tips so I could finish my last block. I try to push myself to learn something new with each quilt project. This one was the turned edge appliqué on the little corner flowers. It was wicked hard. The common color is pink. Each little girl is framed in a fabric that coordinates with her dress. My daughter, Kara, spoke for this quilt, so I will be giving it to her.

Presenter: Rachel Schoffstittl

Quilter: Kathy Quinn

This is a quilt from Linda Dixon's class of Wild Irish Rose

Presenter: Joyce Epperson

Quilter: Joyce Epperson

Another bug quilt. I'm a new member but I'm sure dozens have been made for grandsons. I collected these bug prints for about a year and finally made it up for a grandson. I quilted it on my Tin Lizzie.

Presenter: Della Mattislat

Quilter: Della Mattislat

This is Jinny Beyer's "Moonglow" quilt in red, yellow, orange and lime green.

Presenter: Lois Alice

Quilter: Angie at Homestead Quilting

I received this quilt top as a going away gift from my guild in Denali, Alaska. They didn't quilt it as they had no idea what designs to use and neither did I. So with a prize coupon I took it to Angie and told her to do her best. And she certainly did. There is a different quilt design in each of the blocks, along with different patterns in the lattices and borders. She did everything from stars to feathers to her version of "McTavishing". I have one block that was turned in late and it will go with the label on the back

Presenter: Maureen Stevens

Quilter: Maureen Stevens

This is a 9-Patch with Hearts. It is a UFO that I finally finished after 10 years. I started it in a class by DuAnn Wright.

Presenter: Bev Sheeley

Quilter: Linda Jolly

I won these blocks in a 2009 Block of the Month drawing. The block is call Balkan Puzzle. The blocks were small and few in number, so I decided to make a baby quilt. This quilt is just waiting for the right baby girls to come along! Thanks to all who made the blocks!